Joke of the Week

What does a spy do when he is cold?

Answer: He Goes Undercover!

Fishing Magician

Dave Graybill

Reach Dave @ www.FishingMagician.com or FishBoy@nwi.net "The Outdoor Insider"

I had a great week of fishing. I chased more walleye on Moses Lake, and even got a day of fly fishing on a lake. I also brought the new boat provided to me by Bob Feil Boats and Motors home, and it will be out on the water very soon.

My friend James Lebow got a report of good fishing at the top end of Moses Lake earlier this week, so he got me and another fishing friend Ryan Harris to join him to see if we could get some walleye. Connelly Park had been closed on Mondays and Tuesdays through the month of April, so we took off from Blue Heron Park. It's about a 20 minute run at high speed to the fishing area, but we figured it would be worth it. We put our bottom bouncers on side planers out in about five feet of water and started trolling a path that had traditionally produced walleye in the early season. Water conditions were still good here. The weeds weren't up yet and this part of the lake, which warms up early, hadn't turned over. We did have a stiff breeze to contend with and the water temperature was down four degrees from the last time we fished here, about four days prior. Due to the wind, it was difficult to see when we got a bite on the planers. We repeatedly reeled to check our baits for weeds and found our night-crawlers chewed in half or completely gone. We did get four fish in the live well, losing one nice one at the boat and tossing a small fish back. I know that the fishing here will be good on a clear and sunny day. It could be good for quite a while longer, since the water temperature is staying cool. When the weeds come up and the lake turns over at this very shallow end, you can just move into deeper water to find the walleye. I also like to fish for smallmouth bass on Moses Lake and when the water gets a little warmer they will really get active. I have caught some dandy pre-spawn smallmouth on Moses in the spring.

My very good fishing friend Jim Passage called a couple of months ago telling me to save the date of April 30th for a trip to Hole in the Wall, a private lake managed by our mutual friend, Darc Knoble at the Desert Fly Angler in Ephrata. The lake is known for very good numbers of rainbow trout that are often over 18 inches. Jim brings his small aluminum boat and navigates with an electric motor out the back. He fished while I fumbled around in the bow. I had heard that a large brown fly was working, and I found a couple that under without stooping. There is full cover and enclosure, for the chilly weather in the winter. The cover will also provide shade on the hot summer days we have here. There's a Mercury 250 horsepower motor and a 9.9 kicker on the bracket, and a Minn Kota Ultera on the bow. I will be easy to spot on the water. The boat has a full wrap with logos. The boat was debuted in the Classy Chassis Parade last Friday, and then I pulled it home to load up all the stuff I took out of the last boat I was driving for Bob Feil. I have a few things to add to the boat and break in the motors and then decide which species I am going to chase for the first time. It will either be Lake Chelan kokanee or walleye on Moses Lake. Look for me on the water! This week's photo was taken of the new boat while I was waiting in line for the parade.

I don't know if you are in the habit of checking the videos I have posted on the Dave Graybill channel on YouTube, but I have put some new ones on the channel recently. There's one on Billy Clapp that shows where I like to fish for trout and walleye. There is also a short one on fishing for walleye in Lind Coulee. If you would like to learn more about the lakes in the Quincy Wildlife Area, you might enjoy the one that I did earlier this season. On the opening day of lowland lake trout fishing, I traveled to several very popular lakes in Grant County. The lakes included in this video are Blue, Park, Vic Meyer, Deep and Perch lakes. I have a lot of fun shooting these videos and I hope you find the information provided in them helpful on your fishing adventures.

As soon as I have the batteries fully charged and the motors broken in I will be out on the water gathering info on the area's best fisheries. Can't wait to get started!

the trout loved, but I couldn't hook 'em. Jim landed fish after fish while I tried to find a pattern that the fish would hit and stay on the hook. We had every kind of spring weather we can get here in Central Washington. That means from warm sun to snow! I took a shore video of Jim laughing while reeling in a nice rainbow. The fishing really was amazing. Our flies were constantly getting whacked, and I don't think we landed a fish under 18 inches. I want to thank Jim for another great day of fishing and companionship. I can't wait to get him out on my new boat for some big kokanee.

I picked up the new boat that Bob Feil Boats and Motors is having me drive this season. Man, it is a beauty. It's a 21 foot Smoker Craft Phantom with the off shore bracket and it has what is called a half hard top. The cover is fabric and tall enough to walk

TOP PET-FRIENDLY FEATURES HOME BUYERS WANT

As pet ownership continues to rise, so does the demand for homes catering to our four-legged companions' unique needs. From fenced yards to pet-friendly interior designs, the emphasis on creating a harmonious living space for homeowners and their pets is reshaping the concept of an ideal home.

The National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) surveyed new and prospective home buyers about various home features and preferences, including pet-related ones. The survey found that pet-friendly communities and neighborhood amenities (like dog parks, proximity to vet services, or pet-friendly businesses) can influence home buying decisions. Here is a closer look at some of the most sought-after features:

Outdoor Spaces

Many pet owners prioritize homes with fenced yards, providing a safe space for their pets to roam freely. Not just any type of green space influences buyers. Owners also seek pet-friendly landscaping, such as a well-maintained lawn or a garden.

Easy to Maintain Spaces

Life can be messy at times, especially with four-legged friends at home. According to the NAHB survey, buyers with pets prefer durable and easy-to-clean flooring materials like hardwood, tile, or laminate. Homes with features that make cleaning up after pets easier, such as washing stations or minimal carpeting are also appealing.

Built-In Pet Spaces

Everyone wants their own flexible space at home, including pets. Features like built-in pet beds, feeding stations, or even designated pet rooms are ideal. In addition, a pet-friendly entryway that make it convenient for pet owners to clean and care for their pets before entering the main living spaces are popular options in homes.

Neighborhood Amenities

Spending time outdoors with pets is easier if a home is near a walking trail or a pet-friendly park for daily walks and exercise. Another location-based bonus for buyers is the proximity to pet services like grooming salons, veterinary clinics, or pet supply stores.

Smart Home Technology

Incorporating gadgets that can help create a pet-friendly home is also popular. Buyers seek ways to easily integrate smart home technology, such as pet monitoring systems or automated pet doors.

To learn more about what pet-friendly features can be incorporated into today's new homes, contact the Central Washington Home Builders Association.

REPUBLIC'S EAGLE TRACK ANNOUNCES 2024 SCHEDULE

REPUBLIC, Wash. — Eagle Track Raceway will get racing going a little earlier than planned.

Under new management under the Eagle Track Racing Association, the nearly 70-year-old 3/8's mile dirt racetrack will have its initial 2024 event May 25 according to the schedule just released. Early estimates suggested a June opening.

Racing will consist of Fever 4's, Super Stocks and Modifieds with possibly a Hornet class, a track Facebook post noted.

"Great workday at the track," was another post. "Was able to get the track smoothed back out and some bigger rocks removed," it added.

Two more workdays where volunteers are encouraged to attend will take place May 11 and May 18.

"We still have some repairs that need to be made on the guardrails, and a few other little details to be able to race on the 25th," the post continued.

Nine more race dates are on the schedule including a mid-season championship (July 27) and season championship Oct. 12.

Following uncertainty on operation when former track promoter Jason Pestka decided to no longer operate the track, Ferry County Commissioners agreed on April 8 to let ETRA operate the track which the county owns.

It was Eagle Track Racing Association that is the group which built and started the track decades ago according to Wendy Braun who is spearheading opening the track.

ETRA is a non-profit organization composed of officers and a board of directors.

The association has been behind a myriad of upgrades and improvements over the years. Back in 2015 the ETRA did all the upgrades around the track including new buildings and added more spectator parking, moved and enlarged the pit area.

Gates open at 10 a.m. and racing begins each day at 2 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults, $8 for seniors/military with 12 and under free.

Further information is available by visiting the track Facebook page.

The NASCAR Cup Series experienced the closest finish in its history as Kyle Larson took the win in Sunday's AdventHealth 400 at Kansas Speedway.

Larson officially won by a mere 0.001 second — just shy of an inch — ahead of Chris Buescher in the closest finish in the history of the series.

The finish was so close that timing and scoring initially had Buescher as the winner, but after further inspection of the replay video, NASCAR determined that Larson narrowly crossed the line first in the No. 5 HendrickCars.com Chevrolet Camaro ZL1.

What made the victory, which came in overtime following a late caution, sweeter was Larson landed third in the two-lap dash to the checkered flag.
