Guess Who?

I am a country singer born in Georgia on July 31, 1978. I started performing pop rock covers at local clubs as a teen before finding my country sound. I won a Grammy Award in 2013 for my album, which includes a tune called "Island Song" that has a reggae feel.

YOUR CONNECTION TO THE CITY COUNCIL

Recent Updates...

Spokane Valley City Council - June 4, 2024

This Study Session of the Spokane Valley City Council commenced with a proclamation commemorating the 80th Anniversary of D-Day where 73,000 American soldiers saw action in the June 6th, 1944, landing in Normandy.

The proclamation was followed by action on the second reading of Ordinance 24-010. Since the adoption of the 2024 budget on November 23rd, 2023, events have transpired necessitating a 2024 Budget amendment. That amendment posts General Fund revenue increases of $8,448,797 and expenditure increases of $17,214,840. Major expenses such as the Cross-Country Course Project account for $4,400,000 of the expenditure increase. The Budget Amendment is memorialized in Ordinance 24-010. The motion to approve Ordinance 24-010 passed unanimously.

Spokane Transit Authority (STA) provides public transportation facilities and services to the citizens of Spokane Valley. As part of its annual adoption of its Capital Improvement Plan, STA coordinates with the City to maximize the synchronization of each other's projects to reduce costs and inconvenience. The agreement provides the mechanism for either agency to include their improvements with the other party's planned improvements and establishes a process for reimbursement of costs related to the completion of such improvements by each party. It's anticipated that STA will use the agreement to construct and fund their transit improvements as part of the City's capital improvement projects. The motion to finalize the Master Design and Construction Agreement between STA and the City passed 5-1 (Merkel-no, Wick excused).

On February 20th, 2024, Council received an administrative report on 2024 construction projects. Included in that report was the Broadway Avenue resurfacing Project from Fancher Road to Park Road. Phase 1 of that project, from Fancher to I-90 has been completed. Phase 2 will continue the preservation work from I-90 to Park Road including installation of ADA curb ramps and stormwater enhancement facilities. Spokane County Water District No. 3 plans to install a new water main inside that project and requested that their project be included in the City's. In order for that to happen, an interlocal agreement must be executed between the parties. District 3 will pay for installation of the new main plus a portion of the construction management and material testing costs. The motion to finalize and execute the interlocal agreement for Phase 2 passed unanimously.

Once the interlocal agreement is approved and executed, construction can begin. Bids were solicited on the construction part of the project, with Halme Construction, Inc. submitting the lowest bid at $2,080,000. That bid was 5% below the engineer's estimate of $2,189,710. The motion to award the Broadway at I-90 Preservation Project-Phase 2 to Halme Construction, Inc. passed unanimously.

As part of its ongoing emphasis on public safety and its commitment to hire 10 additional officers, the City through Chief Dave Ellis and staff has identified the Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) Hiring Program (CHP) grant program as a possible augmentation to the direct expense of hiring those officers. If the grant is awarded in full, it would provide $125,000 per new officer spread over a three-year period (about $41,700 per year). There is a minimum local match of 25%. The City must retain each position hired under this grant for an additional 12 months following the end of the grant period. While the City doesn't normally make ongoing commitments with non-recurring funds, in this circumstance, the funding and City needs align. The motion to apply for the COPS-CHP grant passed unanimously.

Lynn Kimball, Executive Director for Aging and Long-Term Care of Eastern Washington (ALTCEW) presented a review of the service data for Spokane Valley and provided information on the current services and resources available for the City's senior residents. A complete display of all the services ALTCEW provides can be found at ALTCEW.ORG.

In the City's continuing efforts to work toward implementation of the recommendations of the recent Matrix (a consultant) police staffing synopsis, it hosted five opportunities in April for citizens to learn more about "Right Sizing Police Services Community Outreach." Opportunities to provide input through both paper and online surveys which were open for two months. More women than men participated; 92% of respondents live in the City; 34% work in the City; 641 responded. Nearly half of the respondents were born between 1950-1969 (55-74 years old). Most (87%) favored hiring some, but not all immediately, of the 31 positions recommended by Matrix.

For the question of how to fund the additional officers, a public safety sales tax was most agreeable, garnering 53% support. A utility tax was the least popular option at 61% unfavorable. Generally, Valley citizens feel rather safe in their residential neighborhoods (63%) but not so much in commercial/business areas (39%). Parks scored very low, only (28%) favorable. Daytime is a favorable time (59%) but drops to 21% at night.

Generally, the takeaways from the surveys were supportive of:

- More police officers
- Quicker response times
- More property and drug investigations
- Reduced reckless/impaired driving
- Consideration of a public safety sales tax measure to fund additional police officers.

The Spokane Regional Emergency Communications (SREC) was formed in 2018 to serve as the regional emergency service communications agency. SREC provides a variety of services focusing primarily on providing 911 and Crime Check call response and dispatch to almost all agencies within Spokane County. Lately there has been confusion on whether the City of Spokane and its police and fire departments are going to participate or go their separate ways. The uncertainty appears to rest on representation on the governing board.

Special Note: There will not be a Council meeting next week, June 11. Instead, there will be a 2025 Budget Workshop in Council Chambers from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Spokane Valley City Council meetings are held in City Hall, 10210 E. Sprague Avenue, on Tuesdays, commencing at 6:00pm. City Hall is open for regular business during normal business hours (8:00am to 5:00pm). The Public is invited to Council meetings to participate in action items or public comment periods in person or via ZOOM. Call 509-720-5000 or prior to 4:00 p.m. for access instructions. Council meetings are broadcast on Comcast channel 14.

"The Outdoor Insider"

This is a good week for boaters and potential anglers. The Free Fishing Weekend is this coming Saturday and Sunday. This is an opportunity for people to try fishing and maybe add it to their family activities. There is a big event at Bob Feil Boats and Motors that the whole family will enjoy.

The Free Fishing Weekend from the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is scheduled for June 8th and 9th this year, anglers across the state can fish without a license. Every year people take advantage of this opportunity to fish the lakes in the state that have been planted with rainbow trout and also fish for the spiny ray species that are abundant in many of them. Every year families enjoy the experience and many make fishing part of their regular outdoor activities. Those who turn out for the Free Fishing Weekend can also participate in the WDFW's Annual Trout Derby and catch a tagged trout that is worth a prize. All rules for size limits, daily limits and area closures are still in effect. It's a good idea to pick up the Washington Sportfishing Rules pamphlet when you visit your local sporting goods stores to get what you need to fish during the Free Fishing Weekend. This will give you all you need to know about the rules and any special regulations that may apply to the lake you are going to fish. You can get more information about this special event on the WDFW's website.

Christine Lee, the office manager at Bob Feil Boats and Motors, asked me to take her and her mother, Brenda Wallace fishing when she was visiting from Alberta, Canada. I had taken the pair sockeye fishing on Lake Wenatchee last summer and we had a great time. This year Brenda was coming in May, so we planned a trip to Lake Chelan to fish for kokanee. When we left the launch at Mill Bay we saw a bunch of boats there and got a couple of nice fish right away. I kept trolling down to Rocky Point and got a couple more. The bite slowed so I pulled the gear and ran across to the area above Lakeside Park, where many anglers were trolling. We got a few more fish here before the wind came up and we headed back to the dock. Kokabow Tackle pink and orange spinners and hoochies worked, and my favorite Ravisher spinner, too.

Fish were mostly at 70 feet on the riggers and lead ball rigs and ranged in size from just under 12 inches to just under 15. A great morning on Chelan. I am eager to get back to Chelan for these big kokanee. This week's photo is of Christine and her Mom Brenda on Lake Chelan.

The Bob Feil Boats and Motors Summer Kick Off event continues on the 8th, and there are a variety of things going on that recreational boaters and anglers will not want to miss. Like serious discounts on a variety of products throughout the store. Plus, there is a seminar on sockeye salmon and Chinook salmon fishing by Austin Moser. I will be giving one on where to find the biggest trout in our region, and Cody from the Central Washington Bass Club will be talking about how to catch bass. Reps from both Yamaha and Mercury will be on hand to answer technical questions. There is going to be the D's Beans food truck at the dealership. Also included is the opportunity to get some important information on boating safety. The event will be going on from 9 to 5 on Saturday. Bob Feil is offering special Boat Show pricing on their new boats, too. Be sure to check out their Facebook Page for details and more updates prior to the event.

There are some big changes in the Chinook salmon fishing areas this year in the Brewster Pool. I had forgotten about the 1,000 year flood event that impacted the Similkameen and Okanogan Rivers back in 2020 that wiped out the spawning grounds in these rivers.

The return to the Colville Hatchery is expected to be just a small fraction of what they need for brood stock gathering. Knowing all this the Colville Tribe shared this with the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife, and they agreed that measured needed to be taken to maximize the return to the hatchery. As many of you know the Colville Hatchery at Bridgeport is a major contributor of Upriver Summer Salmon, Spring Salmon and even Steelhead smolts every year. It's one of the reasons our summer run returns have been consistently good. To help get as many fish as possible back to the hatchery, the Brewster Pool will be closed to fishing for Chinook salmon this year, but will be open for sockeye, with a big return forecast. Fishing will be allowed for Chinook above Pelican Point. Please refer to the graphic on my Facebook page to see the detail of this year's fishing area.

I know there will be a lot of questions about the closure of Chinook fishing in the Brewster Pool, and many of them will be about the Brewster King Salmon Derby. It's scheduled for August 2nd, 3rd and 4th this year. So, I called derby organizer Mike Mauk and asked him about this year's derby. "We have a great bunch of sponsors again this year, and the prize money will be the same as previously awarded at the derby", he said. "Rain or shine, the derby will happen, and anglers will deal with whatever to fish for Chinook wherever they can to win." Mauk knows a lot of anglers already fish above Pelican Point to the bridge in Bridgeport and use the two launches up there. The stretch of the Columbia above Wells Dam to the Brewster Bridge opens on July 16th, and he says he has caught a lot of kings himself in this area. He also knows that many anglers are fishing the Brewster Pool for sockeye, and there is supposed to be a lot of them coming up the Columbia again this year. The pre-season forecast is bigger than last year with over 400,000 sockeye expected.

This is a jam packed weekend, and I am looking forward to seeing some of you at the Bob Feil event for my seminar.

WDFW Seeks Public Comment on Pygmy Rabbit Status Review

News Release: May 29, 2024

OLYMPIA – The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife (WDFW) is seeking public input on a draft Periodic Status Review for the Columbia Basin pygmy rabbit that includes a recommendation to keep the species on Washington's endangered species list. The public comment period is open until August 27.

"The Columbia Basin pygmy rabbit was considered extinct in Washington by 2004 but has since been reintroduced through captive breeding and translocation programs," said Gerald Hayes, WDFW wildlife biologist.

However, there is still more work to do to establish a stable and growing pygmy rabbit population in the state.

"Since pygmy rabbits have not reached population, distribution, or security criteria for downlisting, WDFW staff recommend the species remain state listed as endangered," said Hayes.

The draft Periodic Status Review for Columbia Basin pygmy rabbit is now available on WDFW's website. The public can submit written comments on the document via email or by mailing the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife ATTN: Taylor Cotten, P.O. Box 43141, Olympia, WA 98504.

All members of the public are invited to share their perspectives and participate in WDFW public feedback opportunities regardless of race, color, sex, age, national origin, language proficiency, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, status as a veteran, or basis of disability.

"Following the public comment period, we will finalize the Periodic Status Review and brief the Washington Fish and Wildlife Commission on the recommendation," said Taylor Cotten, WDFW conservation assessment section manager. The Commission is tentatively scheduled to consider this topic in the fall of 2024.

The pygmy rabbit (Brachylagus idahoensis) is the smallest rabbit species in North America. It relies on sagebrush for habitat and can be found in Washington's shrubsteppe. The population of Columbia Basin pygmy rabbit in Washington is extremely small, genetically distinct, and protected under the federal Endangered Species Act. Despite a long history of collaborative recovery efforts in Washington, the species remains vulnerable to climate change impacts and to the threat of habitat loss and degradation.

WDFW regularly analyzes and reviews information to inform status and classification recommendations for species listed as endangered, threatened, or sensitive in Washington. More information is available on WDFW's At-Risk Species webpage.

WDFW works to preserve, protect, and perpetuate fish, wildlife, and ecosystems while providing sustainable fish and wildlife recreational and commercial opportunities.

OPERATION DOG TAG

Unconditional Love Leads the Way

OPERATION DOG TAG DOGS 4 VETS BY VETS

OperationDogTag.org

As I write this article, my service dog "Tank" is next to me, he is with me everywhere I go and helps me with everyday tasks. I have realized I will never be the same, and do all the things I could do before, but working with Tank I have learned to deal with my disabilities. I served in the Army from 1978 to 2002, 24 years in Combat Arms as a Tanker. When I was 100% medically retired from the Army, I was the operation SGM for 1st Armored Division.

A couple of years ago, I got very sick and nearly didn't make it. It was during COVID, but it wasn't from COVID, I needed surgery to stop an infection. I told the Doctors to be careful while moving me, because of my disability from the military. After surgery, I was in a lot of pain, but I was sent home anyway. A week later I started to lose my ability to walk, I could not sleep in my bed or use the bathroom without help. My wife took me to the Emergency Room when I was told my back was severely broken and I needed surgery to place metal bars in my back, I was also told I could be paralyzed.

It took over a year of rehabilitation and I never fully recovered. During this time, I had over 10 visits to the ER, one of those was for a Staph infection from surgery and they had to reopen and wash the hardware and infection. Later one of the bars broke in my back, I felt useless and began to have severe PTSD symptoms, which I did not realize was PTSD at the time.

I see a psychiatrist for my anxiety, feeling hopeless and for my nightmares. I was unable to go to the Doctor without anxiety and could not be in a closed room. I had to leave a light on at night, and the door open to sleep. Things that happened to me in the military came back to me, things that I had planned to never talk about. A few times I thought about suicide. My wife stopped working so she could take care of me as I was unable to do things I took for granted.

Our Care Coordinator asked if I had ever looked into getting a service dog, I never thought I would need one. I did some research and realized there are many Veterans like me working with service dogs. These service dogs helped veterans to deal with PTSD, become more social and perform daily tasks that they may struggle with. The dogs became their "Battle Buddy" or as we say in Armor, their "Wingman".

We had just recently rescued a dog from the local animal shelter and my daughter came up with the name "Tank", he was a handful as a pup, at the time I did not know if he was even an option to be a service dog. I was told about an organization called "Operation Dog Tag" and I gave the Director, Joe Scheffer, a call. We set up a meeting with Tank and I, but the initial meeting did not go well. I became worried that Tank did not have what it takes to be a service dog. Joe gave him a second chance and we never gave up on him. He is now my Wingman as we go together to appointments, activities and restaurants, he is always by my side. I have become more social and feel safe when I am with Tank, he can also help me with some of my disabilities. I have also had the chance to meet other veterans in the Operation Dog Tag training program as well.

I am not sure where I would be without Tank as my Wingman, I hope to continue this journey with Tank and see where it takes us! Learning to train my own service dog is not easy and requires lots of time & patience, but it has been life changing. I have learned to be patient, and with repetition and reward, both Tank and I are learning together. This program is a life saver and needs to be available to all Veterans in need.

Thank you, Edward Wilson
SGM, USA, Retired

A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR OF OPERATION DOG TAG

Operation Dog Tag is a non-profit organization dedicated to training dogs for combat Veterans. Then in turn, training those Vets to train other dogs for other Vets. Having a dog has been proven to help with rehabilitation & many Veterans in our area are in desperate need. The Veterans are given these dogs at no cost. So please help us help our Veterans by donating to:

Get Something More. Get a Yanmar.

Don't settle for standard. When you choose Yanmar, you choose a first-rate machine designed in-house from the ground up and backed by 100+ years of experience. Because everything — including engine, transmission, and axles — are made to work together, Yanmar machines are as dependable as they come. More usable horsepower. Less power loss. And, a smoother, more comfortable ride for the days that go well past sundown. All this, plus an industry-leading 10-year powertrain warranty.

BIG CITY BROKER SYNDROME

A seller recently fired a big city broker who had done a great job prepping for an upcoming listing, but then made the mistake of telling the seller that "I can get more for your property than they can!" The deceitful solicitor was attempting to discredit a reputable local broker who didn't belong to a brokerage with a nationally recognized brand like he did. The seller was smart enough to see through the charade and promptly dismissed the dishonest one.

What would make him say something like that? Did he think he really could manipulate a naïve buyer into paying more than the property was worth or that he could control the market better than that "small town hick broker?" Sounds like a dialogue that might be used by a slick disingenuous salesman! Did he think his big name city brokerage could do more for the seller than the savvy local broker he was trying to compete with? Was he going to be willing drive the distance from his office in the city to show the rural property over and over again? Most city brokers think that 15 miles is a 100 mile drive.

Another seller, egged on by one of those big city brokers, fired the local realtor because the overpriced home had not sold in the first two weeks of the listing. The reasoning was that the big city broker must be better equipped or had some magic advertising power that would make the property sell faster. Their bogus impression was that the local broker, who was adept at selling all types of properties, was just not equipped to sell their high priced luxury property.

The truth is that any broker who works for a large franchise company doesn't have any distinct advantage just because they are a big city or franchised broker. Yes it's true that some brokers specialize in luxury properties, but in those transactions there are just more zero's behind the number. The other components of any transaction are exactly the same.

The local broker did and could advertise in just as many places, including a comprehensive internet marketing plan that allowed the listing to be viewed across the globe. The cost of any print media would be borne by the individual broker and the effectiveness would be dictated by how deep their pockets are, not because the other brokerage was a big company. The local broker could hire a professional stager or photographer any time at the request of the seller.

CITY COUNCIL'S LATAH VALLEY HOUSING BAN DEFIES MAYOR'S 'ALL OF THE ABOVE' HOUSING PROCLAMATION

In her 2024 State of the City address, Mayor Lisa Brown stated, "We just simply have to build more housing supply at all levels. This is the number one challenge facing our future quality of life in our community." As local experts in home building and land use policy, the Spokane Home Builders Association (SHBA) and its members could not agree more. That's why it is disappointing to see the Spokane City Council pass a housing ban in the Latah Valley less than a month after the Mayor's public declaration.

In order to pass this ordinance, the proposers claim that an emergency exists due to the risk of fires. However, no analysis was provided to show why this is unique to the Latah Valley area and not other portions of the City like Indian Trail or West Central, or why the current Comprehensive Plan update process is insufficient to address these concerns.

There also exists great concern over the potentially long-term nature of such measures, as some proponents requested. It is unclear what infrastructure would be advanced by passing the proposed housing ban. When asked about the benchmarks that would need to be met in order to satisfy the ban, the council had no clear answer.

We don't need endless rounds of studies and talk with no commitment to action. That is why housing experts support a proposed TIF (Tax Incremental Financing) district in the region. By leveraging the future taxable value of the land, the city can pay for necessary infrastructure without raising taxes on existing residents. This plan addresses the housing crisis while solving neighborhood concerns.

Already only 15% of Spokane residents can afford to purchase a home. With an estimated 30% of a home's cost coming from fees and regulation and an existing artificial limit on the availability of buildable land, government intervention is a key driver of rising costs. The last thing we need is to make that problem worse or export the City's housing problem to neighboring areas or across state lines.

We know that housing is a ladder. Every home built affects affordability all along the housing continuum. That's why housing at all levels is important, because it relieves pressure at all levels, including the rental market. From a dwelling for a family to entry-level homes, to low income housing to apartment rentals, it's all connected. That's why a blanket policy like this is so harmful.

With Spokane County already at least 35,000 units underbuilt, taking additional land offline will only hurt Spokane residents more by eliminating their potential to build generational wealth for them and their family.

We sincerely hope that the Spokane City Council work quickly to rescind its Latah Valley housing ban and come up with real solutions to our infrastructure needs, instead of continuing to kick the can down the road.

RADIO CONTROLLED HYDRO ROCKET SHIP

An RC hydroplane driven by Gary Grombowski takes flight during the April 14 Bill Muncey Memorial race. The radio-controlled hydros — smaller replicas of familiar names from the past like Pride of Pay'n Pak, Atlas Van Lines and others — raced June 2 at Lakewood, Wash. They return to Ellensburg, Wash. for a pair of races, June 15 for the Rose Cup and June 16 for the Dean Chenoweth Memorial at Irene Reindhart Park.

FORCE PICKS PROCK AS HIS REPLACEMENT

Austin Prock got a lesson from his boss, June 2 at the NHRA New England Nationals at Epping, N.H. when John Force won the funny car race between the two.

According to Autoweek's Susan Wade, Prock will inherit the driver's seat when the day comes that the 75-year-old Force retires from racing.

"I talk too much. I say too much crap. But this kid is going to replace me," Force, 75, said of the 28-year-old class rookie who is subbing this year for three-time champion Robert Hight.

According to Wade, Force — drag racing's winningest driver — did not specify when he will step from the seat. He did say, "My time's pretty much up. I've done my time. I'm not going to quit tomorrow. I'll be at Bristol [this coming weekend in Tennessee for the Thunder Valley Nationals]. But now I'm starting the process."

EVAN GOETZ CASHES IN ON $26,000 PAYDAY AT WENATCHEE 200
By Zach Evans /Racing America

EAST WENATCHEE — Evan Goetz picked up arguably the biggest win of his young career June 2, winning the Wenatchee 200 presented by Plumb Perfect at Wenatchee Valley Super Oval.

The 16-year-old Kulwicki Driver Development Program finalist took the lead following the race's halfway break and fended off the likes of Bubba Pollard and Haeden Plybon to secure a $26,000 payday.

The halfway break proved to be crucial for Goetz, as adjustments from his team gave him the car he needed to jump out front.

"That first 100 laps, I was really loose in," said Goetz in victory lane. "I couldn't really get to the center. Whatever they did in the pits, they wouldn't tell me, but it's a rocketship right now."

From there, Goetz did a masterful job of maintaining his advantage without using too much of his car and tires. Ultimately, he crossed the line 1.5 seconds ahead of Plybon for the victory.

Along with the $25,000 first place prize, Goetz earned a $1,000 "Bubba Bounty" offered by Speedway Promotions, LLC. Drivers who have won at Wenatchee Valley in Super Late Model or Pro Late Model competition were eligible for the bounty if they could beat Pollard and the rest of the stout field of cars in the Wenatchee 200.

Plybon could have also pocketed the $1,000 bounty if he had gained one more spot in the final running order. The defending Northwest Super Late Model Series champion rebounded from an early spin to finish second.

Pollard, piloting a No. 26 from the Evans Racing Enterprises stable, rounded out the podium after a fierce battle with Alan Cress over the final laps. The Georgia driver led laps during the first half, but lost the handling on his car over the course of the second half.

Cress finished fourth, with Jason O'Neil rounding out the top five.

The race was red flagged on lap 129 for a scary incident involving Kole Raz and Dave Garber.

The two cars made contact along the front-stretch, with Garber's right-side tires climbing the outside wall and flipping him onto his roof. Fortunately, both drivers climbed out under their own power and walked away from the incident.
