Fishing Magician

Dave Jayne

Reach Dave @ www.FishingMagician.com or FishBoy@nwi.net "The Outdoor Insider"

This is a good week for boaters and potential anglers. The Free Fishing Weekend is this coming Saturday and Sunday. This is an opportunity for people to try fishing and maybe add it to their family activities. There is a big event at Bob Feil Boats and Motors that the whole family will enjoy.

The Free Fishing Weekend from the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife is scheduled for June 8th and 9th this year, anglers across the state can fish without a license. Every year people take advantage of this opportunity to fish the lakes in the state that have been planted with rainbow trout and also fish for the spiny ray species that are abundant in many of them. Every year families enjoy the experience and many make fishing part of their regular outdoor activities. Those who turn out for the Free Fishing Weekend can also participate in the WDFW's Annual Trout Derby and catch a tagged trout that is worth a prize. All rules for size limits, daily limits and area closures are still in effect. It's a good idea to pick up the Washington Sportfishing Rules pamphlet when you visit your local sporting goods stores to get what you need to fish during the Free Fishing Weekend. This will give you all you need to know about the rules and any special regulations that may apply to the lake you are going to fish. You can get more information about this special event on the WDFW's website.

Christine Lee, the office manager at Bob Feil Boats and Motors, asked me to take her and her mother, Brenda Wallace fishing when she was visiting from Alberta, Canada. I had taken the pair sockeye fishing on Lake Wenatchee last summer and we had a great time. This year Brenda was coming in May, so we planned a trip to Lake Chelan to fish for kokanee. When we left the launch at Mill Bay we saw a bunch of boats there and got a couple of nice fish right away. I kept trolling down to Rocky Point and got a couple more. The bite slowed so I pulled the gear and ran across to the area above Lakeside Park, where many anglers were trolling. We got a few more fish here before the wind came up and we headed back to the dock. Kokabow Tackle pink and orange spinners and hoochies worked, and my favorite Ravisher spinner, too.

Fish were mostly at 70 feet on the riggers and lead ball rigs and ranged in size from just under 12 inches to just under 15. A great morning on Chelan. I am eager to get back to Chelan for these big kokanee. This week's photo is of Christine and her Mom Brenda on Lake Chelan.

The Bob Feil Boats and Motors Summer Kick Off event continues on the 8th, and there are a variety of things going on that recreational boaters and anglers will not want to miss. Like serious discounts on a variety of products throughout the store. Plus, there is a seminar on sockeye salmon and Chinook salmon fishing by Austin Moser. I will be giving one on where

The return to the Colville Hatchery is expected to be just a small fraction of what they need for brood stock gathering. Knowing all this the Colville Tribe shared this with the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife, and they agreed that measured needed to be taken to maximize the return to the hatchery. As many of you know the Colville Hatchery at Bridgeport is a major contributor of Upriver Summer Salmon, Spring Salmon and even Steelhead smolts every year. It's one of the reasons our summer run returns have been consistently good. To help get as many fish as possible back to the hatchery, the Brewster Pool will be closed to fishing for Chinook salmon this year, but will be open for sockeye, with a big return forecast. Fishing will be allowed for Chinook above Pelican Point. Please refer to the graphic on my Facebook page to see the detail of this year's fishing area.

I know there will be a lot of questions about the closure of Chinook fishing in the Brewster Pool, and many of them will be about the Brewster King Salmon Derby. It's scheduled for August 2nd, 3rd and 4th this year. So, I called derby organizer Mike Mauk and asked him about this year's derby. "We have a great bunch of sponsors again this year, and the prize money will be the same as previously awarded at the derby", he said. "Rain or shine, the derby will happen, and anglers will deal with whatever to fish for Chinook wherever they can to win." Mauk knows a lot of anglers already fish above Pelican Point to the bridge in Bridgeport and use the two launches up there. The stretch of the Columbia above Wells Dam to the Brewster Bridge opens on July 16th, and he says he has caught a lot of kings himself in this area. He also knows that many anglers are fishing the Brewster Pool for sockeye, and there is supposed to be a lot of them coming up the Columbia again this year. The pre-season forecast is bigger than last year with over 400,000 sockeye expected.

This is a jam packed weekend, and I am looking forward to seeing some of you at the Bob Feil event for my seminar.

RADIO CONTROLLED HYDRO ROCKET SHIP

An RC hydroplane driven by Gary Grombowski takes flight during the April 14 Bill Muncey Memorial race. The radio-controlled hydros — smaller replicas of familiar names from the past like Pride of Pay'n Pak, Atlas Van Lines and others — raced June 2 at Lakewood, Wash. They return to Ellensburg, Wash. for a pair of races, June 15 for the Rose Cup and June 16 for the Dean Chenoweth Memorial at Irene Reindhart Park.

FORCE PICKS PROCK AS HIS REPLACEMENT

Austin Prock got a lesson from his boss, June 2 at the NHRA New England Nationals at Epping, N.H. when John Force won the funny car race between the two.

According to Autoweek's Susan Wade, Prock will inherit the driver's seat when the day comes that the 75-year-old Force retires from racing.

"I talk too much. I say too much crap. But this kid is going to replace me," Force, 75, said of the 28-year-old class rookie who is subbing this year for three-time champion Robert Hight.

According to Wade, Force — drag racing's winningest driver — did not specify when he will step from the seat. He did say, "My time's pretty much up. I've done my time. I'm not going to quit tomorrow. I'll be at Bristol [this coming weekend in Tennessee for the Thunder Valley Nationals]. But now I'm starting the process."

EVAN GOETZ CASHES IN ON $26,000 PAYDAY AT WENATCHEE 200

By Zach Evans /Racing America

EAST WENATCHEE — Evan Goetz picked up arguably the biggest win of his young career June 2, winning the Wenatchee 200 presented by Plumb Perfect at Wenatchee Valley Super Oval.

The 16-year-old Kulwicki Driver Development Program finalist took the lead following the race's halfway break and fended off the likes of Bubba Pollard and Haeden Plybon to secure a $26,000 payday.

The halfway break proved to be crucial for Goetz, as adjustments from his team gave him the car he needed to jump out front.

"That first 100 laps, I was really loose in," said Goetz in victory lane. "I couldn't really get to the center. Whatever they did in the pits, they wouldn't tell me, but it's a rocketship right now."

From there, Goetz did a masterful job of maintaining his advantage without using too much of his car and tires. Ultimately, he crossed the line 1.5 seconds ahead of Plybon for the victory.

Along with the $25,000 first place prize, Goetz earned a $1,000 "Bubba Bounty" offered by Speedway Promotions, LLC. Drivers who have won at Wenatchee Valley in Super Late Model or Pro Late Model competition were eligible for the bounty if they could beat Pollard and the rest of the stout field of cars in the Wenatchee 200.

Plybon could have also pocketed the $1,000 bounty if he had gained one more spot in the final running order. The defending Northwest Super Late Model Series champion rebounded from an early spin to finish second.

Pollard, piloting a No. 26 from the Evans Racing Enterprises stable, rounded out the podium after a fierce battle with Alan Cress over the final laps. The Georgia driver led laps during the first half, but lost the handling on his car over the course of the second half.

Cress finished fourth, with Jason O'Neil rounding out the top five.

The race was red flagged on lap 129 for a scary incident involving Kole Raz and Dave Garber.

The two cars made contact along the front-stretch, with Garber's right-side tires climbing the outside wall and flipping him onto his roof. Fortunately, both drivers climbed out under their own power and walked away from the incident.

CHOOSING THE RIGHT FLOORPLAN FOR YOUR NEW HOME

A new home can provide flexibility and comfort you can enjoy for many years. Building your dream home can be an exciting prospect, and one key step in the process is selecting a floorplan that fits your needs. A floorplan is an aerial view of the layout of a home. Selecting a floorplan will also give you a sense of the flow of the home from room to room. A builder can recommend floorplans with flexibility and functionality, and maximizes the space available on the lot. If you're not sure which floorplan to select for your new home, consider the following steps:

Make a List of Must-Haves

Making a list of must-have features will help you stay focused. The best place to start is by thinking about the features you're missing in your current home and would be ideal in your new home. Would you prefer a bigger bedroom or kitchen? A builder can make recommendations based on the structural and design elements you prefer.

Assess Your Daily Needs & Lifestyle

Beyond bedrooms and bathrooms, think about the other spaces you would like to have in your new home. For example, a home office, media room or a laundry room might fit your lifestyle needs. There are also spaces and features you don't think about, but you might use often such as a mudroom, storage closet or large kitchen island for entertaining. You also want to think about your preferences with the level of noise and privacy... your home layout will have an impact on both. Exterior needs are important considerations as well. If you enjoy entertaining outside, a patio, water feature, pool or outdoor kitchen are other items you should discuss with your builder.

Consider Your Future Needs

It is important to consider how your lifestyle and needs can change, such as space for children, pets or aging parents. If you want to have different ages of individuals living comfortably under one roof, it might be a good option to select a floorplan design to accommodate multigenerational living.

Take a Tour of Homes

Even with a detailed floorplan, sometimes it can be challenging to visualize the layout of your new home. A walk-through of a model home or home under construction can give you a better idea of the actual home size and flow. A home tour can also help you decide if you need more space or amenities depending on your budget. Invite family and friends along for the tour for support and recommendations. Be sure to check the Exchange each week for Realtors & Builders offering property showings and tours too!
