I got out on the water a couple of times in the past week. I got some video work done on Banks Lake, Soda Lake and Potholes Reservoir. I got some fishing in while I was at it, on Banks and Soda Lake, so folks can learn more about the opportunities these lakes offer for walleye fishing, in particular.

I had a trip scheduled with Joe Zelinski, Gold N Chrome Guide Service, for last Thursday morning on Banks Lake, and we were very close to cancelling. We were concerned about the high winds that were in the forecast, but we went ahead anyway and met at the Steamboat State Park launch. I have known Joe for several years and scheduling a time to do that was difficult with both our schedules. I was very glad that we finally made it out on the water. I learned a lot from him about side planing with crankbaits. This is Joe's preferred method for catching walleye. He said he starts pulling cranks as early as May and continues doing it into the fall. On the day we fished, we stayed in Devils Punchbowl. It was a good place to be, as it offered some protection from the wind that increased in force while we were out there. The first fish we got was 21 inches long and we released a 24 inch fish that morning, too. We were pestered by little largemouth bass and perch, but still put five walleye in the live well before we tossed in the towel after just three hours of fishing. I'm sure we could have put more fish on board, but there are many more calm days ahead of us this season. I have posted the video that I did with Joe on the Dave Graybill YouTube channel, and you'll want to watch this one. If you want to learn more about pulling crankbaits for walleye, this one's for you. This week's photo is of Joe with a 24 inch walleye that he released immediately after we took the photo.

I wanted to add Soda Lake to the videos that I am doing of Grant County fishing opportunities, and my friends James Lebow and Ryan Harris were glad to help out. The last time the three of us fished Soda we got limits of nice walleye. We got off to a bumpy start. When James pulled into the launch area we found that he had a blown wheel bearing on his tandem axel trailer. James had that wheel off in no time and we launched with three wheels on the trailer. That's the benefit of having a tandem axel trailer! We motored down the lake to find the "hot spot" that had produced for us last time and Ryan got two walleye in the boat right away. However, the walleye were elusive and smallmouth bass abundant. We searched and searched for walleye along the western shore of the lake and did manage to land a few more walleye, and lots of smallmouth bass. The video will show the fun of fishing Soda Lake, and although we didn't duplicate our past experience of great walleye fishing, we will be back. The fish we got in Soda were of excellent quality, and that's fishing! The video I did is posted on the Dave Graybill YouTube channel for you to see. Soda Lake is just over 100 acres in size, and it can be easily explored by small boats and kayaks. Two kayaks launched just before we put our boat in the water and they worked the shoreline, casting for bass. I am sure they had a great time, they were still at it when we left. There is good shore access at the top end of Soda, where the Potholes canal enters the lake. I remember fishing here in the spring many years ago with my brother Rick and we caught a bunch of the big lake variety whitefish from this shore.

I had a great day on Banks Lake recently. Tom Verschuren and I traveled to Banks for two reasons. One was to shoot a video, from the water, of all the boat launches on the big reservoir. The other was to take a few minutes to cast for bass near the launches while we were at it. We put the boat in at the Coulee City campground, and motored around the corner to the backside of the breakwater and caught a whopper smallmouth. We fished in Devils Punchbowl, across from the launch in the State Park, and caught both large-mouth and smallmouth bass here. We got a nice smallmouth fishing along the riprap near the boat launch in Osborn Bay. Then we shot some video at Coulee Playland and then ran over to the Barker Canyon boat ramp. We fished a couple of spots on our way to the bottom end of the lake where we started. The shoreline across from the Upper Million Dollar Mile boat launch is a favorite area for fish to Tom and me. I have put hundreds of smallmouth in my boat fishing with Tom and others casting to the shale slides and sunken rocks along here. The video we did is also now available on the Dave Graybill YouTube channel.

Last weekend was Free Fishing Weekend, and I hope that people got out to try their luck. No license is required for this annual event provided by the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife. I spent the weekend at Bob Feil Boats and Motors for the Summer Kick Off event. Christine Lee organized two days of fun for kids, entertainment and education. Youngsters enjoyed catching plastic fish in the pond made from a john boat. The live music was provided by excellent local musicians. Represented there was the Brewster Salmon Derby, Sheriff's Department Boating Safety division, the Lake Chelan Pirates, Crescent Bar, Apple Sox Baseball and others. There were seminars offered on topics from salmon fishing to trout and bass fishing. The food and espresso trucks had excellent food and drinks for the event. Those who participated in the "scavenger hunt" won amazing prizes. Although the Summer Kick Off was competing with High School Graduation ceremonies and family get togethers, plus the Free Fishing Weekend, the turnout was good enough to assure that the event will happen again next year. You won't want to miss it.

MONEY MATTERS: FIRST-TIME HOME BUYER BASICS

Congratulations! You've finally decided to buy a home to call your own. As one of the biggest purchases you'll likely make in your lifetime, navigating the steps to finance your home can be a daunting experience. Like most big-ticket consumer purchases, knowledge is power. If you take the time to do your research and shop carefully, you will have a successful home-buying experience.

When it comes to home buying, you need to decide how much to spend and which type of mortgage will work best for you. Before you step into a sales office or model home, here are some steps to ensure you're in the best possible financial situation to purchase a new home:

Determine Your Monthly Payment

The first step is to figure out what you can comfortably pay every month. Make a list of all your monthly expenses including any loan payments, utilities, insurance, credit cards, and don't forget food, clothing and entertainment expenditures. Your estimated monthly payment should not only include your mortgage, but also other factors such as property taxes, home insurance, loan terms (how long you would like to pay off your mortgage) and homeowners association fees (if applicable). To help you figure out the total cost, there are many mortgage calculators available online to help you determine your monthly payment based on current interest rates and down payment amounts.

Pay Down Your Debts

As you begin preparing your finances for the purchase of a new home, you might see the term "debt-to-income ratio" (DTI). Your DTI compares how much you owe each month to how much you earn, which is expressed as a percentage. This percentage helps lenders gauge how well you manage your monthly obligations and if you can afford to repay a loan. In general, the lower your DTI, the more likely you are to qualify for a mortgage.

Access First-Time Home Buyer Resources

Attend a first-time home buying seminar or talk to a credit counselor who does not work for a lender. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) offers free housing counseling and seminars. You visit hud.gov/housingcounseling or call HUD's interactive voice system at: (800) 569-4287 for more information

Connect with a Lender

After you've completed all of your research, visit a lender and learn more about what loans would be available to you. Then, get pre-approved. This will tell you how much money the lender is willing to loan you, and you will know in which price range you should be shopping. In a hot housing market, pre-approval enables you to quickly make an offer when you find a home, and it is attractive to sellers who are considering multiple offers.

Guess Who?

I am a country singer born in Georgia on July 31, 1978. I started performing pop rock covers at local clubs as a teen before finding my country sound. I won a Grammy Award in 2013 for my album, which includes a tune called "Island Song" that has a reggae feel.

NW MOTORSPORTS Report

"Going fast is your job...telling people about it is ours...!"

KLEYN TAKES NWSLM POINTS LEAD INTO HERMISTON

Gale Brandner

HERMISTON, Oregon — Kasey Kleyn will take the points lead into the fourth event of the season June 15 at Hermiston, Oregon for the IBEW 112.

Kleyn, from Quincey, Washington, also won the last Northwest Late Model Series, May 18 at State-line. With 157 points he holds a comfortable 35-point lead over Ken Bonney (122), Dave Garber (109), Chris Kalsch (108) and Evan Goetz (103).

Three NWSLM races have all produced different winners with Garrett Evans capturing the April 7 Apple Cup win Tri Cities and then son, Jan Evans, winning the Leonard Evans 150 at Wenatchee which honored the memory of his grandfather.

The race will also serve a special purpose honoring Hermiston Raceway videographer, Gale Brandner, who passed away June 8.

In a Facebook post, the track wrote, "Gale was the unsung hero behind the scenes, tirelessly filming every single race we had. His dedication and passion for the sport were unparalleled, and this year, we were honored to present him with the Award of Excellence at our banquet."

"On June 15th, we will be holding a memorial race in Gale's honor. We ask that you join us in celebrating his life and the immense impact he had on all of us. It would have meant the world to him," the message added.

Visit www.hermistonraceway.com for further information.
