CLARKSTON HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 2025

Safe & Sober Graduation Party

PO Box 244, Clarkston, WA 99403

Each year parents at Clarkston High School put on a drug and alcohol-free graduation party for the senior class. This year's Parent Committee is busy fundraising and soliciting donations to give the graduates a great send-off on June 7, 2025. The committee relies on the generosity of the community to help make the Safe & Sober Party a success.

There are several ways you can help:

Donate Gift Certificates, individual items or Gift Baskets

Please help us make the evening memorable for every student who attends by donating gift certificates and/or actual items (individuals or in a gift basket) that we can give away as game prizes or in a raffle

Donate Money

We will use monetary donations to help offset events costs and purchase prizes and raffles items for the Safe & Sober Party. The Class of 2025 has approximately 175 seniors and our goal is to have at least one item per student. In previous years, over 85% of graduation seniors attended this event. Any size cash donation will be a big help.

For questions and donation forms, please contact CHSbantams2025@gmail.com - This is monitored daily and you will receive a prompt response.

To donate, please fill out donations forms which can be requested via email and return it to "Class of 2025 Safe & Sober Grad Party, PO Box 244, Clarkston, WA 99403".

Thank you in advance for your support of this fun tradition for Clarkston High School Seniors!

Dave Graybill

"The Outdoor Insider"

Okay, it's getting chilly outside and there has even been some snow in the forecast. That doesn't mean you should give up on fishing for the season. There are Steelhead being caught on the Methow River and the main stem Columbia River. There are many year-round lakes that offer terrific Trout and Perch fishing. It's also time to think about a trip to Rufus Woods Reservoir to catch some of the Triploids and Walleye that are caught this time of year.

As I continue to document through video of some of the great fishing opportunities in Grant County, I traveled to the Columbia National Wildlife Refuge, which is south of O'Sullivan Dam and Highway 262. The refuge covers over 30,000 acres of cliffs, canyons, grasslands and lakes. Within the refuge is the Seep Lakes Area, and there are over 50 lakes scattered through the high desert landscape. There are over 8,000 acres within the boundary of the Seep Lakes Area. The first thing people interested in exploring this area should do is pick up a map from the tackle shop at Mar Don Resort. This video challenge was how to approach the project. Well, I just figured I would just start at the top. Right across the highway from Mar Don Resort is the access road to a few of the lakes. Corral, Blythe and Chukar lakes lay in a string down the valley. These lakes are planted with Rainbow Trout and are very popular due to the easy access. You do have to hike into Chukar, but it isn't far.

My next stop was at the access road to Soda Lake. I did a video earlier this year on the Walleye fishing at this lake that is posted on the Dave Graybill YouTube channel. Soda offers good bank fishing at the top end and is loaded with Smallmouth Bass and other Spiny Rays. What I consider to be the main entrance to the Seep Lakes Area is on Highway 262 between Warden Lake and O'Sullivan Dam, just east of Road M. From here I was able to reach several lakes. All of which were easily reached via the gravel road and offered everything from great trout fishing to bass and other Spiny Rays. Some of the lakes within the Seep Lakes Area open to fishing on the fourth Saturday in April and others are open year-round. Be sure to check the Washington Sport-fishing pamphlet to see if the lake you intend to fish is open. The results of my day of shooting video will be posted on my channel soon, and I will let you know when it's available to watch. This week's photo was taken of Corral Lake with Blythe Lake in the distance.

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the Coastal Conservation Association once again held a successful broodstock collection effort that provides Wild Adult Chinook salmon to the Priest Rapids hatchery.

This helps to meet the Hatchery

Genetic Management Plan requirements for the facility. Located on the Hanford Reach of the Columbia River, the hatchery produces over 7 million Chinook smolt per year and supports fisheries in Oregon and Washington as well as the Gulf of Alaska and British Columbia. Nearly 100 CCA volunteer anglers in 24 boats fished the waters of the Reach over the weekend of October 25 and 26, collecting 375 adult Kings where they were transferred to hatchery trucks and shuttle boats at Vernita Bridge and White Bluffs boat launch areas. That's over 15 kings per boat average! This collection ensures that a large fraction of the hatchery's production will have at least one wild parent, reducing the impact of hatchery fish spawning in the wild. The broodstock collection, operated as a derby called King of the Reach for the last dozen years, was changed to a non-derby format this year because of safety policy changes implemented by Washington State agencies. Planning for next year's program is already starting.

I am very fortunate to have Tom, my brother-in-law, who is always willing to accompany me on whatever adventure I come up with. When I told him I wanted to run up to Banks Lake and shoot a video on catching Whitefish, he just said "sure". I told him we would hit a couple of the spots that I knew that people fished for Whitefish, and that I would have the bait and everything. Also, I said that after we got a bunch of Whitefish, we would go Bass fishing, which he loves. Well, plan A didn't go so well. I drove over to the bay in Devils Lake, where I always see a bunch boats fishing, and didn't see hardly any fish on my screen. We fished for a while and then ran all the way up the top end and fished by the inlet. Still no fish. So, we switched to Bass fishing and tried some of our favorite areas and got nothing. So much for plan B. Plan C was pulling cranks below Rosebush. Same results. Well, Tom said, it was at least the calmest day he had ever seen on Banks. It was a beautiful day.

I haven't given up on the whitefish at Banks. I know the fall fishing for them can be good clear up to when the lake freezes. Also, when we were below Rosebush we inspected the improvements at the Million Dollar North boat launch. There is a really nice new concrete ramp here, and they did dredge it. It is now five feet deep in the middle of the launch bay. You still have to cross the mud flat, which is about two feet deep to reach the main lake, but this will make it much easier for even a large boat to launch here.

I should mention that Tom was very pleased to see that I have put the full cover on the Smoker Craft Phantom. We can look forward to being comfortable even on the chilly days of winter with the top on and my fumeless Fishing Buddy heater inside. This is the first time I have ever put the top up on any of the boats I have had before, although they came with the boat. I'm sure I will wonder why I haven't put them up before!

H1 UNLIMITED CELEBRATES CHAMPIONS AND YEARLONG AWARD WINNERS | 2024 Season Culminates with Banquet Celebration

Kent, Washington (Nov. 2, 2024) – The H1 Unlimited Hydroplane Series celebrated its 2024 season champions and highlights at its annual banquet, which took place at the Hydroplane and Raceboat Museum.

The 2024 H1 Unlimited Bill Muncey High Points Championship driver, Andrew Tate, who competed for Miss Madison Racing in the U-91 Goodman Real Estate was celebrated by the series along with the APBA Gold Cup winner, Corey Peabody driving for Strong Racing in the U-9 Beacon Plumbing.

"It's a great opportunity to come together as a sport to celebrate the accomplishments of 2024, not only on the water, but off the water as well," said Mike Denslow, Chairman of H1 Unlimited. "This season presented a lot of new opportunities for our sport. There are so many of the people we get to celebrate at the banquet that were key to making 2024 successful. I want to thank everyone that played a role in the 2024 H1 Unlimited season and I know we're all looking forward to taking this positive momentum forward into what is sure to be a successful and exciting 2025."

In addition to celebrating the series champions, H1 Unlimited also honored the year-long award winners:

- H1 Unlimited Crew Chief of the Year Scott Raney, Unlimited Racing Group, Mercury's Coffee
- H1 Unlimited Race Site of the Year Madison Regatta; Madison, Indiana
- H1 Unlimited Sponsor of the Year Mercury's Coffee

• H1 Unlimited Volunteer of the Year Brad Luce, H1 Announcer
 • Montgomery Media Award Nick Kish & Brian Montgomery
 A special award for outstanding contribution was also given to Bruce and Lorrie Ratchford, owners of Apollo Mechanical, headquartered in Kennewick, WA. They were honored with this year's award for supporting the Seafair event in Seattle, along with the Water Follies event in Tri-Cities, Washington. In addition, they sponsored the U-27 driven by the winningest driver in H1 Unlimited history, Dave Villwock. Apollo Mechanical has quickly become a primary supporter of the sport of hydroplane racing and H1 Unlimited looks forward to their involvement for many seasons to come.

BLANEY CLINCHES CHAMPIONSHIP 4 BERTH WITH MARTINSVILLE WIN | From Racing America

Martinsville, Virginia (Nov. 3) — It was déjà vu all over again for Ryan Blaney and the No. 12 Team Penske organization Sunday in the NASCAR Cup Series Xfinity 500 at Martinsville Speedway. Blaney rallied from a massive deficit of more than five seconds to Kyle Larson and Chase Elliott with around 55 laps remaining in the race. Blaney would blast his way past Elliott for the race lead with 15 laps remaining, and he would never look back.

Blaney, the defending Series champion, took the race win by 2.593 seconds over Elliott to secure his berth into the Championship 4 field in next weekend's NASCAR Cup Series Championship Race at Phoenix Raceway.

Like last season, Blaney secured his place in the Championship 4 after a disappointing runner-up finish at Homestead-Miami Speedway.

The NASCAR Cup Series Championship Race is scheduled for next Sunday,

November, 10 at Phoenix Raceway. That race will be televised on NBC with coverage kicking off at 3:00 PM ET. The Motor Racing Network (MRN) and SiriusXM NASCAR Radio will carry the live radio broadcast of that event.

Ryan Blaney got it done when he needed the most as he won Sunday's NASCAR Cup Series Xfinity 500 at Martinsville Speedway to secure his place in the Championship 4 field. Racing America photo
