How to Spot, Avoid & Report FAKE CHECK SCAMS

Fake checks might look like business or personal checks, cashier's checks, money orders, or a check delivered electronically. Here's what to know about fake check scams.

In a fake check scam, a person you don't know asks you to deposit a check. It's usually for more than they owe you, and it's sometimes for several thousand dollars. They tell you to send some of the money back to them or to another person. They always have a good story to explain why you can't keep all the money. They might say they need you to cover taxes or fees for a prize, to buy supplies for a job, to send back money they overpaid, or something else. But this is a scam.

Why Do These Scams Work?

These scams work because fake checks generally look just like real checks, even to bank employees. They are often printed with the names and addresses of legitimate financial institutions. They may even be real checks written on bank accounts that belong to someone whose identity has been stolen. It can take weeks for a bank to figure out that the check is a fake.

Fake Checks and Your Bank

By law, banks have to make deposited funds available quickly, usually within two days. When the funds are made available in your account, the bank may say the check has "cleared," but that doesn't mean it's a good check. Fake checks can take weeks to be discovered and untangled. By that time, the scammer has any money you sent, and you're stuck paying the money back to the bank.

Your best bet: Don't rely on money from a check unless you know and trust the person you're dealing with.

How To Avoid a Fake Check Scam

Never use money from a check to send gift cards, money orders, cryptocurrency, or to wire money to anyone who asks you to. Many scammers demand that you buy gift cards and send them the PIN numbers, buy cryptocurrency and transfer it to them, or send money through wire transfer services like Western Union or MoneyGram. Once you do, it's like you've given them cash. It's almost impossible to get it back.

Toss offers that ask you to pay for a prize. If it's free, you shouldn't have to pay to get it. Only scammers will ask you to pay to collect a "free" prize. Don't accept a check for more than the selling price. You can bet it's a scam.

Freezing temperatures have put a cap of ice on the many of the lakes in the region. Some, at higher elevations, have had thick layers for a month or more, and ice fishers have been busy on these lakes. Many anglers are keeping their fingers crossed that there will be others that have a safe thicknesses of ice very soon.

On a recent swing through Grant County to check on ice conditions at several popular winter destinations, my last stop was at Moses Lake. The perch fishing at Moses Lake this fall was the best in years, and many anglers were hoping for a good ice fishing season for them. Well, they are going to have to wait a bit longer. I pulled into Blue Heron Park, and for the first time in a couple of months, I was the only vehicle to park there. I walked down to the shore, near the beached fishing docks, and from there I could see a layer of ice on the surface of the lake for as far as I could see--except at the I-90 Bridge. Here there was still some open water. Probably due to the current. There is some hope for ice fishing. The forecast is for sub-freezing temperatures for the next couple of weeks. However, after that there is a warming trend, with some day-time temperatures in the 40s, and night-time temps only in the 30s. The ice fishing window may be brief this winter on Moses Lake. I will keep an eye on it and keep you posted. This week's photo is of the ice at the bottom end of Banks Lake.

As ice begins to form on the surface of many lakes in the region, I wanted to check on a couple of locations that are very popular with ice fishers. I traveled to Banks Lake to see what the ice conditions were in a couple of spots. At the bottom end of the lake, I often see quite a few ice huts out on the ice in two different places. Sometimes there are huts just outside the marina. They set up just above the jetty. I don't think this is the best place to find the whitefish, and maybe it's good for perch and trout. When the ice finally gets thick enough for safe travel, most of the ice huts are out at the top end of the first island. This is where the serious whitefish anglers settle in. Right now, there is just ice along the edges and a thin layer in protected bays. There is ice in the marina, and I can see where people are throwing rocks on the surface to test its thickness. We need a lot more cold weather and windless days before ice fishing is possible on Banks—at either end.

Well, we went from wondering if we were going to have an ice fishing season on many of our area lakes, to having plenty. Lakes at high elevation like Molson which is at over 3,900 feet and Bonapart at over 3,500 feet have had good ice for weeks. Even Curlew Lake at just over 2,300 feet has treated ice fishers to great fishing for its large perch. Now some other lakes are coming into play. Fish Lake, near Lake Wenatchee, is at just 2,000 feet as of last weekend I saw anglers venturing out on its ice. It was what I called "iffy" then, but the continued sub-freezing weather has improved conditions. I imagine that Palmer, out of Tonasket, and Patterson, out of Winthrop, have good layers of ice on them now. Last winter, the Coulee City Marina was worth the trip. Located right at the bottom end of Banks Lake people had a great time fishing for perch. Also, at this end of Banks is an area that sees significant numbers of ice fishers catching the large whitefish through the ice. They drag their sleds quite a distance from the marina to an island where the whitefish are schooled up.

I mentioned that I stopped by Rocky Ford Creek recently on my way home from Billy Clapp Lake. I was encouraged to have my fly rod in my truck when I am near this place again. It's worth a few trips this winter. This is a very special place. When other flowing waters are frozen, Rocky Ford remains ice free. The reason is that it is fed by an underground spring which keeps the water temperature well above freezing throughout the winter months. It does get cold enough to clear out much of the weed growth that occurs here in the warmer months. Winter is my favorite time to fish here. When the ground around the stream is frozen, I don't have to tramp through muddy water to get to my favorite places to cast for the big trout that inhabit the mile-long stream. The trout can be tough to catch, but I have had some great days here. Rainbow well over 20 inches are often landed. My favorite offering is a Mini Leech and Ultra Scud or small olive, weighted Scud as a dropper. Darc at the Desert Fly Angler can give you the latest on fishing here.

I got in touch with the folks at Tiffany's Resort on Curlew Lake, to see if they were going to have cabins available on the weekends as they did last year. The answer was no, but they did say that people can get access to the lake on their property for a fee. The last time I was at Curlew I found the fishing slow at the bottom end of the lake. The large party that I visited with those who were fishing at Tiffany's were having great success, with lots of 12 inch perch on the ice. You can call Carly at the resort for all the details at 509-775-3152. She mentioned that there are several nice motels in Republic, which is about 20 miles away.

Those who participated in the Bonaparte Lake Ice Fishing Derby had lots of company. I hear that there were around 400 people that turned out for the event. The people at Bonaparte Lake Resort did a great job again this year and everyone is looking forward to next year.

Income Tax COUNTDOWN

What could be more satisfying than to have your tax return completely organized, filled out, and signed well before the dreaded April 15 deadline? What feels worse than hunting around for missing records at the last minute, being greeted by an angry glare from a frazzled tax preparer on April 13, or even finding out that you owe more taxes than you expected to pay? You can make things easier on yourself and your accountant by taking these simple steps during the year.

JANUARY-FEBRUARY

1. Start keeping records for the current year's expenses.
2. If tax forms don't arrive in the mail, pick them up at a local bank or post office. Or call the IRS at 1-800-424-FORM.
3. Make an appointment with your accountant or tax preparer.
4. If you are preparing your own return, consult a current-year tax guide.

FEBRUARY-MARCH

1. If you have dependents 2 years old or older who don't have Social Security numbers, fill out Form SS-5 at your local Social Security office.
2. If you were exempt from withholding from wages last year, file a new W-4 form with your employer to continue your exemption this year.
3. If you have not received a W-2 form from your employer or 1099 forms from your bank, broker, and so forth, report the oversight to them.
4. Review your payroll records, check stubs, and receipts; list itemized deductions.
5. List your sources of income, including salary, interest, dividends, capital gains, professional fees, and pensions.

MARCH-APRIL

1. Provide your tax preparer with all necessary records and information.
2. Review completed tax forms for errors and omissions.
3. Sign the forms and write your Social Security number on them. Your spouse should sign a joint return (if filing jointly). Make photocopies for your files and keep them for at least three years.
4. Make out checks or pay amounts due, if any.
5. For a 4-month extension, complete Form 4868. You must still pay what you owe. Make out a check or pay an estimated amount by April 15.
6. Consult your accountant about changes in the tax laws, especially deductions, for them coming year. Adjust your spending, investments, and your files accordingly.

EVERGREEN SPEEDWAY 2025 SCHEDULE HIGHLIGHTS

MONROE, Washington -- The state of Washington's self-proclaimed "super-speedway," Evergreen Speedway in Monroe announced its 2025 schedule, according to spokesperson Ben Eyman.

Some notable special events in 2025 include racing on both a 5/8's and 3/8ths-mile ovals.

On May 23 the 5/8's mile track presents Hill Street Cleaners & HCI Steel Buildings Monster Truck Double Header & The Sean Peters Memorial Demo Derby Presented by Nelson Motorsports: Our first multi-day event of the year, it's three days of high flying, constant, destruction and carnage.

Mark Galloway 150 Shootout takes place June 28. This year's premier Pro Late Model race at Evergreen not only is a part of the Tri-State Challenge Series, but now will host Kevin & Keelan Harvick along with the Spears Cars Tour West series.

July 4 will see the Angel of the Winds USA Birthday Bash. "Our Annual 4th of July extravaganza, this sell out event sees Demo, Bus and Boat figure eight racing, a Mr. Dizzy extreme stunt and fireworks at the end of the night is a great way for the family to celebrate," Eyman reported.

The BECU Figure 8 Nationals follow on July 12. This first of two figure eight focused events sees some of the best of the best on the West Coast compete for the national championship.

Tire Pros Summer Showdown takes place

July 19. This major Super Late Model Race pays $30,000 to the winner. The annual contest of the big track will see some of the best of the best in the country compete for the win.

The Granite Cup on Aug. 2 is what Eyman calls "Our premier sprint car race sees some of the fastest cars in the world tearing up the 3/8th oval." This year will see the event as a part of the Northwest Sprint Tour.

An event called the Buzz Inn Big Ed Ritchie 60 Minutes of FEAR on Oct. 4 closes out racing for the season. A two-hour long figure eight race to crown final winners of the year takes place before fireworks to cap off the night.

WASHINGTON NATIVE KAHNE RETURNS TO NASCAR

Multiple sources have announced the return to NASCAR racing of a name and face familiar to the Northwest.

After more than seven years away from NASCAR National Series competition, Kasey Kahne is set to make his return to Rockingham Speedway April 19 in the NASCAR Xfinity Series reported Joseph Strigley and Racing America.

Kahne, from Enumclaw, Washington, will be driving the No. 33 Chevrolet for Richard Childress Racing. HendrickCars.com will be the primary sponsor of Kahne's entry.

"I'm excited to get back behind the wheel of a stock car, especially at a place like Rockingham Speedway," Kahne told Racing Americas. "Rockingham has been a special track throughout my career. I remember winning the Truck Series race in 2012 when the sport went back there last, so to be a part of the current return is cool."

For 15 seasons Kahne was a fulltime competitor on the NASCAR Cup Series, collecting 18 victories for multiple teams including Evernham Motorsports, Red Bull Racing and Hendrick Motorsports.

"Kasey is a great driver and a fierce competitor," said Richard Childress, chairman and CEO of Richard Childress Racing. "Our Xfinity Series program is top notch, and we look forward to watching Kasey race with Austin (Hill) and Jesse (Love) for an exciting return to Rockingham Speedway. With Kasey behind the wheel, we expect the No. 33 to have a shot at winning the race."

Kahne got his feet wet in a Jan. 28 tire test on the one-mile oval. The April race will be Kahne's first start since 2017.

"Kasey is a great friend and an incredibly talented driver, and we're proud to have HendrickCars.com on board with him at Rockingham.

"It's going to be exciting to see him return to NASCAR at such a special track and with a great team," said Rick Hendrick, chairman and CEO of Hendrick Automotive Group. "I have tremendous respect for Richard and everything his organization has accomplished. We look forward to seeing Kasey return to NASCAR in what promises to be a memorable weekend for the sport."
