Income Tax COUNTDOWN

What could be more satisfying than to have your tax return completely organized, filled out, and signed well before the dreaded April 15 deadline? What feels worse than hunting around for missing records at the last minute, being greeted by an angry glare from a frazzled tax preparer on April 13, or even finding out that you owe more taxes than you expected to pay? You can make things easier on yourself and your accountant by taking these simple steps during the year.

JANUARY-FEBRUARY

1. Start keeping records for the current year's expenses.
2. If tax forms don't arrive in the mail, pick them up at a local bank or post office. Or call the IRS at 1-800-424-FORM.
3. Make an appointment with your accountant or tax preparer.
4. If you are preparing your own return, consult a current-year tax guide.

FEBRUARY-MARCH

1. If you have dependents 2 years old or older who don't have Social Security numbers, fill out Form SS-5 at your local Social Security office.
2. If you were exempt from withholding from wages last year, file a new W-4 form with your employer to continue your exemption this year.
3. If you have not received a W-2 form from your employer or 1099 forms from your bank, broker, and so forth, report the oversight to them.
4. Review your payroll records, check stubs, and receipts; list itemized deductions.
5. List your sources of income, including salary, interest, dividends, capital gains, professional fees, and pensions.

MARCH-APRIL

1. Provide your tax preparer with all necessary records and information.
2. Review completed tax forms for errors and omissions.
3. Sign the forms and write your Social Security number on them. Your spouse should sign a joint return (if filing jointly). Make photocopies for your files and keep them for at least three years.
4. Make out checks or pay amounts due, if any.
5. For a 4-month extension, complete Form 4868. You must still pay what you owe. Make out a check or pay an estimated amount by April 15.
6. Consult your accountant about changes in the tax laws, especially deductions, for them coming year. Adjust your spending, investments, and your files accordingly.

"The Outdoor Insider"

Freezing temperatures have put a cap of ice on the many of the lakes in the region. Some, at higher elevations, have had thick layers for a month or more, and ice fishers have been busy on these lakes. Many anglers are keeping their fingers crossed that there will be others that have a safe thicknesses of ice very soon.

On a recent swing through Grant County to check on ice conditions at several popular winter destinations, my last stop was at Moses Lake. The perch fishing at Moses Lake this fall was the best in years, and many anglers were hoping for a good ice fishing season for them. Well, they are going to have to wait a bit longer. I pulled into Blue Heron Park, and for the first time in a couple of months, I was the only vehicle to park there. I walked down to the shore, near the beached fishing docks, and from there I could see a layer of ice on the surface of the lake for as far as I could see--except at the I-90 Bridge. Here there was still some open water. Probably due to the current. There is some hope for ice fishing. The forecast is for sub-freezing temperatures for the next couple of weeks. However, after that there is a warming trend, with some day-time temperatures in the 40s, and night-time temps only in the 30s. The ice fishing window may be brief this winter on Moses Lake. I will keep an eye on it and keep you posted. This week's photo is of the ice at the bottom end of Banks Lake.

As ice begins to form on the surface of many lakes in the region, I wanted to check on a couple of locations that are very popular with ice fishers. I traveled to Banks Lake to see what the ice conditions were in a couple of spots. At the bottom end of the lake, I often see quite a few ice huts out on the ice in two different places. Sometimes there are huts just outside the marina. They set up just above the jetty. I don't think this is the best place to find the whitefish, and maybe it's good for perch and trout. When the ice finally gets thick enough for safe travel, most of the ice huts are out at the top end of the first island. This is where the serious whitefish anglers settle in. Right now, there is just ice along the edges and a thin layer in protected bays. There is ice in the marina, and I can see where people are throwing rocks on the surface to test its thickness. We need a lot more cold weather and windless days before ice fishing is possible on Banks—at either end.

Well, we went from wondering if we were going to have an ice fishing season on many of our area lakes, to having plenty. Lakes at high elevation like Molson which is at over 3,900 feet and Bonapart at over 3,500 feet have had good ice for weeks. Even Curlew Lake at just over 2,300 feet has treated ice fishers to great fishing for its large perch. Now some other lakes are coming into play. Fish Lake, near Lake Wenatchee, is at just 2,000 feet as of last weekend I saw anglers venturing out on its ice. It was what I called "iffy" then, but the continued sub-freezing weather has improved conditions. I imagine that Palmer, out of Tonasket, and Patterson, out of Winthrop, have good layers of ice on them now. Last winter, the Coulee City Marina was worth the trip. Located right at the bottom end of Banks Lake people had a great time fishing for perch. Also, at this end of Banks is an area that sees significant numbers of ice fishers catching the large whitefish through the ice. They drag their sleds quite a distance from the marina to an island where the whitefish are schooled up.

I mentioned that I stopped by Rocky Ford Creek recently on my way home from Billy Clapp Lake. I was encouraged to have my fly rod in my truck when I am near this place again. It's worth a few trips this winter. This is a very special place. When other flowing waters are frozen, Rocky Ford remains ice free. The reason is that it is fed by an underground spring which keeps the water temperature well above freezing throughout the winter months. It does get cold enough to clear out much of the weed growth that occurs here in the warmer months. Winter is my favorite time to fish here. When the ground around the stream is frozen, I don't have to tramp through muddy water to get to my favorite places to cast for the big trout that inhabit the mile-long stream. The trout can be tough to catch, but I have had some great days here. Rainbow well over 20 inches are often landed. My favorite offering is a Mini Leech and Ultra Scud or small olive, weighted Scud as a dropper. Darc at the Desert Fly Angler can give you the latest on fishing here.

I got in touch with the folks at Tiffany's Resort on Curlew Lake, to see if they were going to have cabins available on the weekends as they did last year. The answer was no, but they did say that people can get access to the lake on their property for a fee. The last time I was at Curlew I found the fishing slow at the bottom end of the lake. The large party that I visited with those who were fishing at Tiffany's were having great success, with lots of 12 inch perch on the ice. You can call Carly at the resort for all the details at 509-775-3152. She mentioned that there are several nice motels in Republic, which is about 20 miles away.

Those who participated in the Bonaparte Lake Ice Fishing Derby had lots of company. I hear that there were around 400 people that turned out for the event. The people at Bonaparte Lake Resort did a great job again this year and everyone is looking forward to next year.

January GARDENING TIPS

Master Gardeners of Spokane County

CATALOGS AND SEEDS

It's time to order seed and plant catalogs and seeds! Order your favorites now to avoid the selection being sold out. Try a new variety of your favorite flowers and vegetables.

VIEW FROM INSIDE

This is a good time to take a hard look at what your garden looks like from the inside. Check your favorite windows and ask yourself if your view could use some additional winter interest or if it could use pruning to avoid blocking your views.

FORCE BULBS

Favorite bulbs for forcing indoors are amaryllis, paperwhites, and hyacinths. Other bulbs include tulips, daffodils and dwarf iris. Forced bulbs don't even need soil to grow as they grow well in water and gravel.

SNOW ON TREES

If you can, leave snow on trees and shrubs unless the weight of the snow appears to be breaking branches. If you need to remove snow, use a broom and sweep upwards. Never attempt to remove ice from branches as they will break.

Multiple sources have announced the return to NASCAR racing of a name and face familiar to the Northwest.

After more than seven years away from NASCAR National Series competition, Kasey Kahne is set to make his return to Rockingham Speedway April 19 in the NASCAR Xfinity Series reported Joseph Srigley and Racing America.

Kahne, from Enumclaw, Washington, will be driving the No. 33 Chevrolet for Richard Childress Racing. HendrickCars.com will be the primary sponsor of Kahne's entry.

"I'm excited to get back behind the wheel of a stock car, especially at a place like Rockingham Speedway," Kahne told Racing Americas. "Rockingham has been a special track throughout my career. I remember winning the Truck Series race in 2012 when the sport went back there last, so to be a part of the current return is cool."

For 15 seasons Kahne was a fulltime competitor on the NASCAR Cup Series, collecting 18 victories for multiple teams including Evernham Motorsports, Red Bull Racing and Hendrick Motorsports.

"Kasey is a great driver and a fierce competitor," said Richard Childress, chairman and CEO of Richard Childress Racing. "Our Xfinity Series program is top notch, and we look forward to watching Kasey race with Austin (Hill) and Jesse (Love) for an exciting return to Rockingham Speedway. With Kasey behind the wheel, we expect the No. 33 to have a shot at winning the race."

Kahne got his feet wet in a Jan. 28 tire test on the one-mile oval. The April race will be Kahne's first start since 2017.

"Kasey is a great friend and an incredibly talented driver, and we're proud to have HendrickCars.com on board with him at Rockingham.

"It's going to be exciting to see him return to NASCAR at such a special track and with a great team," said Rick Hendrick, chairman and CEO of Hendrick Automotive Group. "I have tremendous respect for Richard and everything his organization has accomplished. We look forward to seeing Kasey return to NASCAR in what promises to be a memorable weekend for the sport."

NOXIOUS WEEDS

What is a Noxious Weed? They are non-native plants that have been introduced to Spokane County through human actions. Because of their aggressive growth and lack of natural enemies, these species can be destructive, competitive, and difficult to control.

DALMATION TOADFLAX

(LINERIA DALMATICA)

This moderately branching perennial can grow up to 5ft tall. Light green to blue-green leaves are covered in a waxy layer. Snapdragon-like yellow flowers with a bearded throat and long spur. Taprooted; spreads by seed and adventitious buds on creeping, horizontal roots. Hand pull or dig young plants before creeping roots develop. The plant is not preferred by grazing livestock. Spray herbicides when plant is actively growing to provide long-term control.

SPRING CLEANING TIPS THAT PAY OFF

Owning a home is a big responsibility, and that fact becomes even more obvious every year when spring rolls around. Spring cleaning for home owners typically means much more than just cleaning out the garage and washing windows. For most, the to-do list can be quite extensive.

So if the thought of spring cleaning makes you long for winter, try thinking about these annual chores as a way to protect your family's home and your future finances. All it takes is just a few days to complete some simple tasks.

Here are several items that should be on your spring cleaning checklist:

- Inspect all windows to ensure they operate properly and that all window screens are in place. Clean the window tracks and check that the weatherstripping hasn't cracked or torn. Preventing unwanted outside air from leaking into your home also will reduce your energy bills.

- Have your air conditioning system inspected and cleaned. If your system has a filter, replace it every three months to keep your unit working efficiently.
- Check the condition of the glazing compound, caulking and exterior paint. Replace or paint as needed.
- Exchange glass and screens in storm doors and/or windows. Ensure the screens are clean by washing gently with soapy water.
- Inspect your roof for damage caused by snow or debris. While you're up there, clean your gutters of debris. Even though you did this last fall, winter weather often brings a mix of storms and heavy winds that can cause debris to build up.

- Keep out pests and rodents by sealing any cracks and openings along baseboards, behind sinks, and around pipes and windows. Also, repair any holes in doors and window screens.
- Check for evidence of termites such as sagging floors and ceilings or dry, brown tunnels in the ground near the home's foundation.
- Seed and feed the lawn and plant annuals, cut back perennials that need pre-growth pruning.

Remember, focusing on these small jobs now will save you time and money in the long run. For more information about home maintenance, contact Central Washington Home Builders Association at 509-454-4006 or visit CWHBA.org.
