Dave Isenhour
"The Outdoor Insider"

I hope you have made plans to try your luck at the Banks Lake Triple Fish Challenge. I also got out and fished Billy Clapp Lake, Lake Chelan and Rufus Woods last week.

The Banks Lake Triple Fish Challenge, conducted by Reel Recreation, is coming up on April 11th through the 13th. It kicks off with Fun Friday, with a variety of activities. They include a trout pond, gold panning, golf, a climbing wall, and the Ninja Climb. To satisfy your hunger and thirst, there will be a lemonade stand, cotton candy and a taco stand. On Saturday and Sunday anglers will take on the challenge of catching three species. They must catch a bass, a walleye and a "kicker" species, which could be a whitefish or a rainbow trout. If they can do this two days in a row, they qualify for the prizes. Each day, the heaviest rainbow trout, walleye, bass, and whitefish in adult and youth divisions will be awarded prizes. Youth anglers will receive prizes for each day's heaviest 3 fish stringers. In the Adult class, the angler with the heaviest 6 fish total (2 bass, 2 walleye, and 2 "kicker" fish) will win the Grand Prize. You can register and get all of the rules by logging on to reelrecreation.com. There are some rule changes in place this year that should really help anglers have even better success. I hope to see you there!

My neighbor Dan Fiske, owner of the Yodelin restaurants in Leavenworth and Port Angeles, says that kokanee are his favorite fish. So, Dan and his 13 year old son, Calder, joined me last Saturday for my first trip to Lake Chelan this year to see if we could catch some. I used the city launch above the dam and drove the Smoker Craft up to an area below Rocky Point, keeping a close eye on the Gamin fish finder to start our search. Not long after we started trolling on the Minn Kota, one of the downrigger rods started bouncing, and Calder reeled in a 15 inch beauty. We then left the lower basin and ran up above the Yacht Club. Here we found the kokanee fishing fleet. There were at least a half dozen boats scattered across the water from Green's Landing to the area I call The Fences, as there are some long, white vinyl fences leading to homes on the lake. One passing angler mentioned that they had started here at first light and had caught five fish. We worked through this area and landed three small kokanee. Fishing for kokanee on Chelan will improve as more of them move down from the upper lake. This week's photo is of Calder with this 15 inch kokanee from Lake Chelan.

I made another trip to Rufus Woods, hoping to have another busy day catching triploid rainbow trout. My fishing partners Keith Hiatt, Alex Saliby and I did. It took me a while to find the numbers of fish I was looking for on the Garmin fish finder, and I even moved locations a couple of times. When the screen was filled with fish, I would launch the Minn Kota and park on them. The fish were certainly more scattered than on my last two trips. Initially, the current was running so strong that I dug out some heavier jigs, and that helped. Actually, it didn't matter what Keith and I tried, Alex caught fish after fish. He got a reputation for this kind of "fish hogery" when the three of us fished for bass at Banks Lake a few years ago. At one point I had all kinds of lead head jigs and grubs laid out on the back of the Smoker Craft for Keith and I to try, but we just couldn't keep up with Alex. I must say that this batch of trout the Colville Tribe released are in beautiful shape, and we had a blast catching them.

I was invited to fish Billy Clapp

Lake with Dennis and Monaca Beich last Sunday and I said yes with enthusiasm. I have mentioned in previous reports that I've had several great days fishing for rainbow trout here in the late winter or early spring. I stopped by the week before to check on conditions and found the dock floating and people launching their fishing boats. After loading the boat, we headed up to the big basalt island and started looking for fish on the Gamin fish finder. We weren't really seeing many. There were a few marks that looked like big trout, but nothing was hitting the plugs that we were flatlining out the back of the boat. After a while we decided to make the run up to the top end of the lake to see if we could mark some walleye. We did get some good walleye marks, but they were awfully deep, and we weren't set up for walleye fishing. We spent a little more time trolling back where we started. We got a couple of hits, but didn't hook a single trout. We are hoping trout fishing will improve when the water temperature warms up.

I want to remind everyone that fishing licenses must be renewed each year on the first of April. I wouldn't be the first one to let this get me. I have had to jump online to get one to keep legal. If you haven't done this, it really isn't too difficult. However, you can't get your salmon or steelhead punch cards online, you have to get these at a store that sells licenses. Also, I have had friends who have shown up to go fishing with me that had their fishing license but didn't know they needed a salmon card. The person at the counter just didn't ask and they didn't know. Be sure to ask. They don't cost anything either. The other fishing license item is that you don't want to throw last year's catch record card away. You need to send it to Olympia. The instructions are on the punch cards, and they are due by the end of the month. I stopped by the ramp at the east end of Evergreen Reservoir on my way home from Billy Clapp. The water is up about as high as it gets, and the ramp can be used.

More and more fishing opportunities are coming this spring!

Shop Local Auctions to Save Big on your Next DIY Project

Spring is here, and that means projects are piling up faster than the weeds in the garden. Maybe you're putting up a new fence, tackling a fresh coat of paint on the house, or pouring a concrete pad for your new storage shed. No matter the job, chances are it requires a tool you don't have sitting in your garage.

Before you head to the rental counter or click "buy now" on a brand-new gadget, consider a different route: watch your local auctions for specialty tools. It's a smart, cost-effective, and even eco-friendly approach to home improvement.

Why Buy Instead of Rent?

Sure, tool rental seems convenient—but it's also money you'll never get back. For example:

- Renting a drywall panel lift for a weekend: $75-$100
- Scaffolding setup: $100-$200
- Cement mixer: $65-$120 per day
- Post hole digger: $40-$60 per day

Even if you only need it for a day or two, you're shelling out cash you won't see again. And let's face it: projects almost always run a little longer than planned.

But if you buy the same tool at a local auction, you not only avoid those daily fees, you also get to work on your own schedule. No rushing to return it. No penalties if the job takes an extra day (or week).

Use It, Then Pass It On

Best part? When you're done, just place an ad in the Exchange and sell the tool to the next neighbor tackling a similar project. With auction prices often well below retail, chances are you'll sell it for close to what you paid, meaning you basically used the tool for free.

You save money, skip the rental rush, and avoid storing a big piece of equipment you won't use again for five years. Win-win-win.

Eco-Friendly and Community Friendly

Reusing tools and keeping them circulating in the community is not only good for your wallet, it's good for the planet. Fewer new tools bought means fewer resources used. And when you pass that deal along to someone else, you're helping them get their project done affordably too.

What to Watch For at Local Auctions

I've been using this tactic for years, and watching the auctions and seeing what items sell for has become somewhat of a hobby, knowing how much I could save buying used vs. new. Also most of the time the items found at auction tend to be higher quality and perform much better than what you would pay to buy the tool new at your local big box store.

Keep an eye out for these items:

- Scaffolding
- Drywall lifts
- Cement mixers
- Post hole augers
- Power washers
- Tile saws
- Paint sprayers
- Chainsaws
- Log splitters

Many auctions also post photos or item lists online before the event, so you can plan ahead. Bottom line: Skip the rental counter this spring. Buy smart, use the tool, then sell it forward. You save money, make space, and help someone else in your community get their project done on a budget. That's the kind of cycle we can all get behind.

ZACH RIEHL COMPLETES MISSION WITH 'APPLE CUP' WIN

From NWSLM Media & NW Motorsports News Services

WEST RICHLAND, Washington (April 6, 2025) – A pass with two laps remaining of Kasey Kleyn delivered the 2025 Apple Cup win to Zach Riehl.

Riehl had been knocking on the door of victory lane for some time but finally closed the deal in the Northwest's oldest late model stock car race at Tri-City Raceway RMEC. The victory was good for a $10,000 payday for the 16 year old.

"I didn't think this day would ever come. It is definitely a crazy experience," Riehl said following victory in the 125 lap race on the TCR half mile tri oval.

Kleyn took the lead on lap 86, in a daring three wide move.

The two leaders embarked on a torrid battle that saw Riehl dipping to the inside of Kleyn on multiple occasions. On lap 123, Riehl finally got his break, when Kleyn slipped in turn 3, allowing Riehl to grab the top spot.

"I was taking my time and the opportunity opened up for me to take the lead through some hard racing, when the leaders washed up the track," Kleyn said. "Unfortunately, I wasn't able to hold onto the lead until the end of the race."

Trace Thompson started deep in the field in 17th, but drove through the field, showing patience. He was able to wrestle the third spot away from Plybon with four laps to go, after an extended battle with the 2023 series champion.

"I think we took a little too long to get around the 55 (Plybon), but overall, it was a great day with a top three," Thompson said.

Plybon ended up fourth with, Ryan Phipps

(5th), Johvan Dillon (6th), Ken Bonney (7th), Wyatt Gardner (8th), Terry Halverson (9th) and Andrew Palmer made up the rest of the top 10.

Former 2005 and 2008 champ BJ Tidrick was 16th.

"At the beginning of the race, I knew that we were going to have to back it down and save some tires", Riehl said. "It's a long race with 125 laps and only four tires. We were just trying to cruise and pick our passes without spinning our tires. At the end we picked it up and it definitely worked out."

This is the fourth Apple Cup staged at Tri City Raceway since its rebirth in 2022 at the track which had been closed since 2024. The Apple Cup originated at Yakima Speedway in 1967 but the track closed in 2022 and the race moved.

The next event for the Northwest Super Late Model Series is the "Leonard Evans Memorial 150" at the Wenatchee Valley Super Oval on April 26th. Jan Evans will be looking to defend his title from 2024 and score his second career victory in the series.

LIGHTNING-FAST LAST PIT STOP NETS HAMLIN VICTORY

By Holly Cain - NASCAR Wire Service

DARLINGTON, S.C. (April 6, 2025) – A perfectly executed overtime restart by Denny Hamlin following a clutch final pit stop by his Joe Gibbs Racing crew provided exactly the advantage the veteran needed to claim the trophy in Sunday's Goodyear 400 at Darlington (S.C.) Raceway.

Hamlin took the race lead out of the pits during the final late race caution then bested the field on the ensuing restart, pulling his No. 11 Joe Gibbs Racing Toyota out front and ultimately to a .597 second victory over the day's most dominant driver, Hendrick Motorsports' William Byron.

It's the second consecutive victory for Hamlin, who won last week at Martinsville, Va. and marks the first time he's won back-to-back races since 2012 when he won at Bristol, Tenn. then Atlanta the following week.

All smiles as he climbed out the car, Hamlin gave all the credit to his pit crew. He was third place at the time of the final caution – the yellow coming out for Byron's Hendrick teammate Kyle Larson's spin. The leaders seized the chance to pit for fresh tires in anticipation of the overtime restart and Hamlin's crew got him out of the pits first - ahead of 23XI Racing's Tyler Reddick and Byron.

A perfect launch on the ensuing green flag gave Hamlin the victory over Byron, who led a race best 243 of the 297 laps. It is Hamlin's 56th career win, breaking a tie with NASCAR Hall of Famer Rusty Wallace for 11th place on NASCAR's all-time wins list.

"There's two people I really love right now, my pit crew and Kyle Larson," the 44 year old Virginian Hamlin said with a grin. "Had a little assist there, so thank you."

It was obviously a tough ending to a career day for Byron, who rallied to the runner up finish on the final restart but had absolutely dominated the early race, leading the opening 243 laps and claiming both Stage 1 and Stage 2 victories. It was the most laps Byron has ever led in a single race.

"First off, just really proud of my team to bring that level of effort and preparation and have a car like that and us execute like that," Byron said.

"It sucks and I'm sure it will sting tonight, but there are still a lot of positives. It just stings in the moment for sure."

Hamlin's JGR teammate Christopher Bell finished third in the No. 20 Toyota after an amazing rally forward from a 20th place starting position. Reddick finished fourth in the 23XI Racing Toyota, co-owned by Hamlin and NBA legend Michael Jordan.

Team Penske's Ryan Blaney finished fifth. It is the 2023 NASCAR Cup Series champion's first top five at the 1.366 mile historic track, but the result still stings as Blaney had just taken the race lead moments before the final caution came out with only three laps of regulation remaining.

"Oh no," Blaney said when the yellow flag flew.

Roush Fenway Keselowski Racing's Chris Buescher finished sixth, followed by Trackhouse Racing's Ross Chastain, Hendrick's Chase Elliott, JGR's Ty Gibbs and Richard Childress Racing's Kyle Busch. It was a season best effort for Gibbs.

Byron's runner-up showing keeps him in the NASCAR Cup Series championship lead now by 49 points over Hamlin and 52 points over Bell.

The NASCAR Cup Series moves to the famed Bristol (Tenn.) Motor Speedway high banks next weekend for Sunday's Food City 500 (3 p.m. ET, FS1, PRN, SiriusXM NASCAR Radio). Hamlin is the defending winner.
